FOREWORD

We, the class of 1947, have published this volume of the Lane Pine

to preserve the memories we have had in Naruna High School.

We hope that this little book, throughout the years to come, will bring to us, to our teachers, and to our many friends, happy thoughts of the pleasant associations we have had during our years at N.H.S.

DEDICATION

Throughout the years of her service to her school, her community, and "her pupils" Miss Jenny McIvor has been loyal, sincere, and true, ever inspiring us to higher ideals.

For the love, encouragement, and inspiration she has shown us, we wish to dedicate this volume eight of the Lone Pine to Miss Jenny McIvor, our teacher and our friend.

SENIOR PLAY.... "LENA RIVERS"

Presented.....March 14, 1947

The play dealt with the plight of young Lena Rivers (Christine Johnson) and her beloved Granny Nichols (Virginia Epperson) who were compelled to leave their New England home and seek refuge with Granny's son, John, who has changed the family name of Nichols to Livingstone because of the social aspirations of his dominating wife, Matilda (Mildred Singleton). Arriving in Kentucky where John (John Gilliland) lived, Lena and Granny were subject to the sort of treatment that is usually handed to poor relations. Mrs. Livingstone insisted that her husband's relatives live in a small room which was formerly occupied by servants, and she and her daughter, Caroline (Marjorie Scott) trembled with fear at the thought of their wealthy friends' reactions to the awkward country girl and her Granny. But Durward Belmont, whom Mrs. Livingstone planned to marry to Caroline, saw the potential worth of Lena and began to pay her attentions. The wealthy Livingstone did all they could to place Lena in false positions. The younger Livingstone daughter, Anna (Genell Foster) and her brother, John Junior (Herbert Marshall) became Lena's firm friends, and championed her cause. In return Lena aided Anna and helped her along her romance with Malcolm Everett (William Clowdis) a tutor in the household. In the last act, Mr. and Mrs. Graham (Leonard Scott and Jean Laughon) arrived to give a happy ending. Mr. Graham proved that Mrs. Graham had no reason for her jealousy when he revealed that Lena was his daughter. The part of Granny had many laughs as was John Junior. Aunt Milly (Marion Williams) and Old Caesar (G.B. Berkeley, Jr.) the colored servants, were a whole show in themselves.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

We are eleven years old, Alma Mater. Ever since September 1936, you have loved and mothered us, guided and taught us, praised and scolded us.

You have anxiously watched us experience joys, sorrows, successes, and failures. When we became discouraged, it was you whom we usually blamed, but it was finally to you, too, that we turned for comfort and help. Under your wing we have grown in mind, in body, in spirit.

We have had grand adventures that will sometime bring back memories. Only seven of our seniors began their training here at N.H.S. in the first grade eleven years ago. They were Virginia Epperson, Mildred Singleton, Marjorie Scott, Marion Williams, Christine Johnson, Herbert Marshall, and Reginald Elder. Genell Foster joined us in the sixth grade.

We began our freshmen year (1943) happy as a bunch of larks at the thoughts of leaving the grade building and taking our abode in the high school building. The class bells were very confusing at first but after quite awhile we became accustomed to them and settled down to a real year's work with seventeen on roll and the following elected as class officers:

President, Virginia Epperson; Vice President, Marjorie Scott; Secretary and Treasurer, Mildred Singleton; Reporter, Christine Johnson; Sponsor, Mrs. Mary Maddox. During that year, Raymond Baker stopped school to work in Baltimore. William Clowdis, Gerald Colbert, Frances Layne, and Lessie Harding, and Henry Carwile became members of our class. Gerald, Frances, and Lessie remained with us only a few months. Jessie Hamilton had the misfortune to break his leg and therefore had to drop from our class.

We also lost Gracie Berkeley and Douglas Pillow. Our freshman year ended with sixteen pupils with the happy thoughts of our becoming sophisticated sophomores after a three months vacation from school.

We stumbled into our sophomore year with a total of five boys and eleven girls and the following class officers: President, Mildred Singleton; Vice President, Christine Johnson; Secretary, Marjorie Scott; Treasurer, Virginia Epperson; Reporter, Margaret Layne; Sponsor, Mrs. Cleo Q. Kent. Alford Williams was welcomed into our class.

The Sophomores presented a play called "The Little That Is Good." A dime was charged for admission. Around ten dollars were made which we gave to the cannery fund.

On Friday, May 24, 1945, we entertained ourselves on a picnic. Dinner was enjoyed by all and then everyone joined in games and climbing trees. It ended joyfully, but sorrowfully, by Mrs. Kent calling us to go back to school.

We parted that year with joyous laughter and happiness because that meant we were juniors and only one more year and we would be seniors.

Our first meeting in our junior year was held for the purpose of electing officers for this was to be a very busy year. Officers were: President, Virginia Epperson; Vice President, Margaret Layne; Secretary, Mildred Singleton; Treasurer, William Clowdis; Reporter, John Gilliland; Sponsor, Mrs. Lucile Riegel. G.B. Berkeley, Jr. and John Gilliland joined us this year. Pauline Doss left us to be a homemaker, Margaret Epperson grew weary of us, Alford Williams had to leave us because he was such a great farmer, and Henry Carwile joined Uncle Sam's Navy.

We as juniors invited the seniors to go on the regular annual picnic April 20, 1946. We took them to Natural Bridge and gave each person the privilege of inviting a friend. We met at school on a bright, sunny Saturday morning. At ten o'clock we all climbed aboard a big cattle truck and started on our journey. After almost being blinded by wind blown hair and a lot of "I'm hungry"s we finally reached Natural Bridge. The table was spread with many delicious foods. After dinner we all met and went together to see the "Bridge" We walked for miles looking at different views of the bridge, exploring caves and lost rivers. Finally we tore ourselves away from the perfectness of the little town and started home. When we arrived in Lynchburg, we enjoyed a movie or bowling. We left for home, tired and sleepy, sorry that our perfect day had to end. The day we had waited for, for ten years, but we will always look back and remember our junior and senior picnic of 1946.

On May 24, 1946 we also entertained the seniors and high school faculty with an informal dinner in the school cafeteria. We parted that year happy because we were seniors of Naruna High School.

We plunged into our senior year eager to get busy and accomplish the work of seniors. Our class officers: President, Herbert Marshall; Vice President, Marion Williams; Secretary, Christine Johnson; Treasurer, John Gilliland; Reporter, Reginald Elder; Historian, Mildred Singleton; Sponsor, Miss Kathleen Hall. During the summer Margaret Layne departed from us leaving eleven seniors.

After quite a bit of practicing we presented the senior play "Lena Rivers" in the school auditorium on March 14, 1947. The auditorium was filled to its capacity. The play began promptly at eight o'clock and lasted for more than two hours. Miss Kathleen Hall who directed the play introduced the cast at the beginning of the play and acted as hostess at a reception given in honor of the cast, their friend and parents, school faculty, and ushers. The second performance was given March 18, at one o'clock. A total of one hundred ninety three dollars was received from sale of tickets.

During our senior year we published Volume eight of the Lone Pine, with Mrs. Kent as our adviser and Virginia Epperson as editor in chief. With much patient work and strife, it was finally a success.

On April 21, 1947, the senior class received an invitation to a formal party on May 9, 1947. The invitation was from the juniors. We accepted with great pleasure and after much impatient waiting the night came. The juniors sponsored by Mrs. J.J. Riegel entertained the seniors, their guest and the faculty at the Community Hall in Brookneal. The hall was beautifully decorated with green plants and flowers. Candlelight spread a soft glow over the room and the "merry makers". Various games were played and enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by the junior girls. Everyone had a joyous time.

On May 17, the seniors entertained themselves with a picnic at Riverside Park in Lynchburg. After exploring the Alpine Trail together everyone joined in a picnic supper, after which they separated, each selecting his own entertainment. The day ended with much happiness, but yet a sorrowful wing hovered over with the thought of this being the last senior get together.

Our years at N.H.S. have ended, but the memories will linger forever.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1947 of Naruna High School, being of sound mind and judgment, and having reached an age where we are soon to pass on to higher realms, do hereby make and declare this to be the last will and testament of our class. This valuable document, duly executed and signed is as follows:

To our beloved teachers, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Whitlow, Mrs. Riegel, Miss Hall, Miss Bertha, and Mr. Riegel, we bequeath our lasting affection and thanks for the capable manner in which they have directed us through high school. We also grant them a goodly share in the honors we shall win in the coming years, since we feel that they will be largely responsible for our coming successes.

To our successors, the Juniors, we bequeath the privilege to shine as models of wisdom.

To various individuals we make these important and generous gifts trusting that they will be duly appreciated.

To O'Neal McHaney, Virginia Dare Epperson, bequeaths her ability of good leadership.

To Angie Johnson, Herbert Marshall bequeaths his temper, hoping that this will be an asset to Angie.

To William Jennings, Mildred Singleton bequeaths her jolliness. May you prosper from it as Mildred has?

To Floyd Crabtree, Reginald Elder bequeaths his curly hair, so that you Floyd will not always have to be trying to curl and wave your hair.

To Shirley Mason, Christine Johnson bequeaths her secret in keeping short in stature.

William Clowdis leaves Ann, sorrowfully but hopefully.

To Evelyn Riegel, Marjorie Scott bequeaths her broad vocabulary, and ability to put on airs.

To Edward Layne, John Gilliland bequeaths his ability to brag on how many home runs he will make in the next base ball game.

To Edith Burton, G.B. Berkely bequeaths his quitness, so that you, Edith will not have to always think your thoughts aloud.

To Janie Ashworth, Marion Williams bequeaths her giggling ways. May you have as good a time from it as she did?

To Lois Jane Daniel, Genell Foster bequeaths her ability to get something to eat, no matter when, where, or how.

With our last parting breath we do hereby constitute and appoint the principal of afore mentioned school sole executor of this, our last will and testament.

In witness whereof: we, representatives of the class of 1947, attach our signatures.
